Russians Expel 2 American Attaches

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet order expelling two more American military attaches will have little practical effect except as propaganda. One has already left the country and the other has transferred orders.

The Russians ordered out Marine Capt. Paul R. Uffelman 31, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Navy Lt. William S. Lewis, Guthrie, Okla. The United States said they were attacked by a crowd in civilian clothes in Leningrad Jan. 25 and subsequently detained in a Leningrad police station despite their diplomatic immunity.

Lewis In Germany
The American Embassy, where the two were assistant naval attaches, said Lewis has gone to West Germany on leave and will not return to Moscow. Uffelman has completed his duty tour and has train reservations with his wife for Berlin Monday en route home.

The Soviet move appeared to be another retaliation for the arrest of alleged spies for Russia in the United States and the expulsion from America of Soviet diplomats accused of spying.

On Jan. 30 the Soviets expelled two other U. S. military attaches, Maj. Hubert Tansey, Alexandria, Va., and Capt. Charles Stockell, Jacksonville, Fla. They were charged with "engaging in activities incompatible with their diplomatic status."

Russian Charges Made
Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko claimed Uffelman and Lewis had tried to photograph an

2 Are Injured In Car Mishaps

Three Motorists Cited By Patrolmen

Two persons were injured and three were arrested Thursday in three auto accidents that occurred on district highways.

William K. Park, 50, of 981 Home Circle was treated at the Central Clinic for possible fractured ribs after his car and an auto driven by Arlene Martinez, 22, of Leetonia collided on Rt. 558, one and one-half miles southeast of Salem at 11:20 a.m.

Bernice Baker, 18, of Leetonia, a passenger in Miss Martinez' car, also was treated at the Clinic, for bruises.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred as both cars were approaching a one-lane bridge from opposite directions. As Park's auto entered the bridge, Miss Martinez tried to stop, but her car skidded left of center and struck Park's vehicle, patrolmen said.

Miss Martinez was cited for failing to yield the right of way. Cars driven by Clyde C. Ferguson, 71, of Salineville and Richard A. Russell, 18, of Hanoverton collided at 7:45 p.m. on Rt. 164, just south of Lisbon.

Russell was arrested for failing to yield the right of way.

David King, 47, of Pittsburgh, Pa., escaped injury when his car overturned on Rt. 30, one mile east of Minerva, at 10 p.m.

Patrolmen said King lost control on a curve, causing his car to go left of center and into the yard of a house owned by Wilda Coldsnow of Bayard. His auto knocked down a sign post, and overturned against a parked car owned by Cecil McDole of East Rochester. The McDole auto sustained some damage.

King was arrested for reckless operation, patrolmen said.

The sets, complete with instructions in English and Braille, can be ordered through Glenn Robbins of the First National Bank or Don Mathews at his barber shop at 159 S. Ellsworth Ave.

The program is part of a nationwide project sponsored by the Lions International.

Mathews said the sets will be ordered after sufficient applications are made.

March 1 Completion Date for Sewage Plant

Completion of Salem's new sewage disposal plant is expected by March 1, Superintendent of Utilities Aubrey Hayes reported today.

The plant, which was started in July, 1955, is being built at a cost of $553,224 by the John H. Murnane Company of Cleveland.

The new plant, Hayes revealed, will be capable of handling the sewage of a population of 20,000.

Included in the project is the addition of a trickling filter, which will aid the treatment of liquid sewage.

Two new digesters installed with heating equipment will contribute to faster treatment of the solid content of the sewage; and a grit removal chamber will protect the plant's pumps and eliminate the filling of the digesters with sand and cinders.

Within the past year the company has added a sludge thickening device, sand drying beds, new machinery in the control building of the plant, new primary machinery, and new secondary machinery.

Hayes said incompleteness of the project include: metering equipment to be calibrated and set by the company representatives, repair of air line leaks, furnishing and installation of an alarm and light warning switch on the indicator panels, installation of ballast for the digester cones, and a field

Ike, King Saud In Agreement

Arabia To Receive Increased U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and King Saud, reportedly in full agreement on Middle East problems they talked over, hold their final meeting today.

Their White House conference was expected to bring forth a communique summing up results of their talks during the last 19 days.

Eisenhower then flies to a Georgia vacation and Saud prepares to leave Saturday for Spain.

American and Arab officials indicated beforehand the Eisenhower-Saud communique would cover these key points:

1. Extension of the agreement under which the U. S. Air Force uses the Dhahran air base, possibly for five years.

2. Increased U. S. military aid. Saudi Arabia wants to double its 15,000-man force and modernize it with bigger tanks and jet planes.

3. Assurance of U. S. economic aid for development projects.

4. An indication that Saudi Arabia will cooperate with Eisenhower's proposed military-economic program for blocking Com-

Thugs Shoot Victims After Home Is Looted

Eldon Shoup, Father Surprised Thieves At Frank Wells Home

ALLIANCE — Surprised as they ransacked a residence here Thursday night, two burglars shot and wounded Earl Shoup, 46, and killed his son, Eldon, aged 25.

The shooting occurred at 9:10 p.m. at the fashionable home of Frank (Red) Wells at 2815 Ridgewood Drive where the father and son had gone to check the home in the absence of Mr. Wells, who is vacationing in Florida.

Mr. Wells, a tavern owner, lived in Salem a number of years ago. He runs the 20th Century Billiard Parlors and the Silver Bullet Cafe.

The elder Shoup told police that he entered the home and started down the basement steps and suddenly a man darted past him and fled out the side door. Almost at the same time Shoup said he heard his son cry from outside, "I've been attacked."

The father ran outside where he found his son grappling with an unidentified man. As the father went to the assistance of his son another man ran up and one of the thugs advised his partner, "shoot them!"

Dies In Hospital

Three or four shots were fired, one of the bullets hitting Eldon Shoup in the neck, the bullet progressing downward to inflict fatal wounds. Eldon died an hour later in the Alliance City Hospital.

The elder Shoup was shot in the right chest and hand and is in "fair" condition at the hospital. The father, who helps Mr. Wells in his business dealings, said he had been told to look after the house while his employer was away. He was descending the stairs to the Wells basement office when he surprised one of the burglars.

Police discovered that the house had been ransacked and a safe in the basement office was empty. It was found lying overturned with the door missing.

Police Capt. Lawrence Lauer said the exact loss of the contents of the safe cannot be determined until Mr. Wells returns from Florida.

Fingerprint experts from the London prison farm were on the scene today to seek clues as to the identity of the assailants.

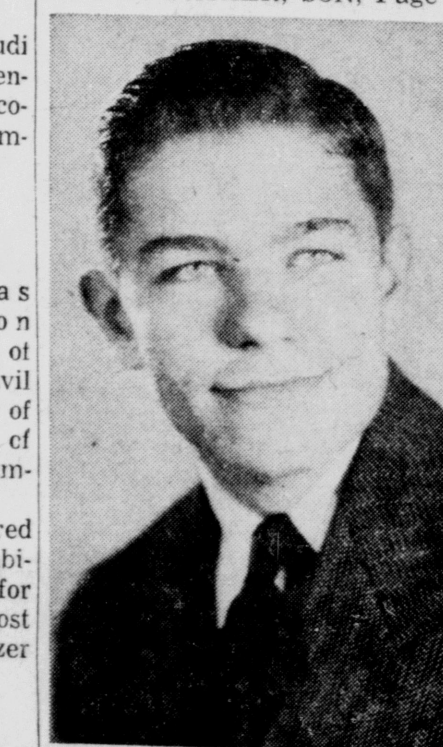

Flee in Car, Is Relief

The gunmen are believed to have fled to a car which police believe was parked one block west of the home on S. Rockhill Ave. Ext. Police found tire marks in the mud as well as footprints indicating the path the murderer and his companion took.

The father carried his son into the Wells home, called his wife and then police. When police arrived, Eldon was slumped over on the floor and Earl was in a semi-conscious condition in a chair. Both were rushed to City Hospital.

Investigation revealed entrance to the home was made by removing a screen and forcing open a window that apparently was not locked. Once in the home, the two tried open a safe and according to a police statement today, took an

Israel Refuses To Move Troops

Stands Defiant On Threat Of Sanctions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Israelis took a defiant attitude today toward an Arab-Asian decision to seek U.N.-backed restrictions against Israel.

Israeli sources said the 80-nation General Assembly could vote all the restrictions it wants, but Israel will keep her troops in the Gaza Strip and along the Gulf of Aqaba coast until Egypt gives guarantees of peace.

Dispatches from Jerusalem said Israel's determination to hold on was hardening rather than weakening.

To Seek Sanctions

A spokesman for the 27 Arab-Asian nations announced Thursday the group had decided to draw up a resolution condemning Israel for not pulling out of Egypt and calling for economic, financial and military restrictions (sanctions).

Jordan delegate Abdul Monem Rifa'i, current president of the Arab-Asian group, called for a General Assembly meeting early next week. He said he expects a resolution to be in shape by Tuesday.

Informed sources said some members of the group still opposed such a drastic step as an economic boycott. These delegations were reported surging consultations first with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to see what the situation is.

The Arabs began a similar move last month to slap a boycott on Israel. The full group decided to hold off until it could find whether Israel would comply with the Assembly's latest request to withdraw behind the 1949 armistice lines.

Israel Voices Demands

Israel countered with new demands for guarantees that Egypt would not resume commando raids from the Gaza Strip and her pre-invasion blockade against Israeli shipping in the Red Sea Gulf of Aqaba. The Israelis made plain they are not budging for the present, despite a personal appeal from President Eisenhower and Hammarskjöld's mediation efforts.

The U. S. delegation made plain it is not initiating any move for restrictions. But it indicated the

HIS JOB OVERLAPS

CLEVELAND (AP) — William J. Deputula like many another man these days holds down two jobs. Trouble is, said a postal inspector when Deputula was bound over to the federal grand jury Thursday, Deputula punched his post office time clock sometimes before he was through on his 4 p. m.-to-midnight job as a guard at another place.

Deputula 42 and the father of two worked an 11 p.m.-to-7 a.m. shift as a maintenance man at the main post office. He was accused of cheating the government an hour's time about twice a week since last April. Conviction would carry a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Weeks Sees No Controls On Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks says no plans are being made for direct controls in the face of rising wages and prices.

"There is no disposition in the administration to take that road," he said. And this doesn't mean any "essential difference" between his views and those of President Eisenhower, he said.

The day before Weeks' statement, Eisenhower said that unless business and labor exercise restraint, the government "has to be more firmly with so-called controls of some kind."

However, Eisenhower made it plain that he disliked government controls.

Weeks said it was a good idea "to keep telling people the consequences" of inflationary pressures. But, he said, he doesn't think "we're remotely close to a bust in this boom."

Says Oil Industry May Justify Price Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo.) said today oil industry spokesmen may be able to "make a showing" for price increases wholly aside from effects of the Suez Canal closing.

Some members of Congress and others have accused the oil industry of price gouging in the wake of stepped-up demands for oil to be shipped to Europe. There have been suggestions for government action if the oil firms don't roll back their prices.

But Barrett told a newsman he wanted to hear the industry's side before reaching a conclusion.

He is participating in a Joint Senate Antimonopoly Public Lands subcommittee inquiry into recent fuel oil and gasoline price boosts, and operation of the emergency oil-for-Europe program sponsored by the government.

He said testimony yet to be presented might show that rising costs, unrelated to the Suez crisis, justified a hike in oil prices. Since early January crude oil prices have been boosted 35 cents a barrel and gasoline a cent a gallon.

In the House Thursday, Rep. Ikard (D-Tex.) said the crude oil price increase was "necessitated and justified by spiraling costs," mainly for steel and labor.

The Senate investigation, under the chairmanship of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), is in recess until Tuesday, when spokesmen for the independent petroleum producers will testify.

Meantime, plans for a separate investigation by a five-member Senate Commerce subcommittee were announced by Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman of the full committee. Sen. Pastore (D-RI) will head the probe, due to start shortly.

At Thursday's hearing before the joint subcommittees, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) took government officials to task on grounds they did not seek to prevent price increases last fall in negotiating with major American oil companies for the emergency oil lift to Europe.

Read at the hearing were minutes of a meeting in Washington last Sept. 19 of the Middle East Emergency Committee. This record showed the oil companies predicted that closing of the Suez Canal would exert "serious upward pressure" on petroleum prices.

Kefauver said Arthur S. Fleming, outgoing defense mobilization chief; Asst. Secretary of the Interior Felix E. Wormser; and other government officials sat in on the meeting but did not try to keep prices down. They said they had no authority to do so.

Enlistees May Serve In European Theater

Young men of this area may enlist directly for Europe, it was announced today by Sgt. Emuel Rosley, the local Army representative, located in the post office each Monday and Wednesday.

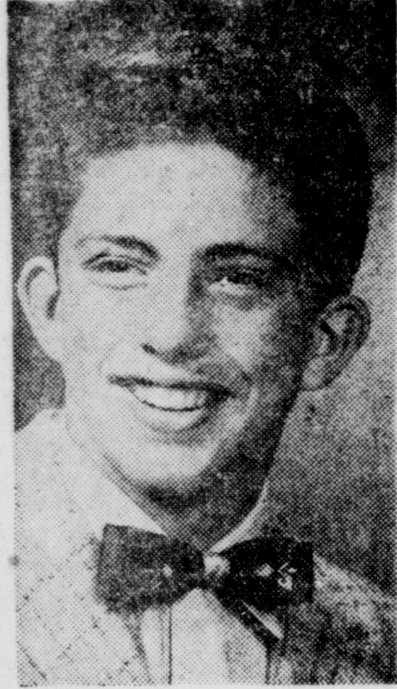

Under the Army's "Operation Gyroscope," several units are scheduled to sail for Europe. These units have been opened up for direct enlistments to bring them up to full strength before sailing. Young men are guaranteed assignment to the unit of their choice. Sgt. Rosley pointed out that friends enlisting together will stay together for their entire enlistment, and will also be able to serve in an overseas area of their choice. It was also pointed out that men enlisting for these units will know beforehand exactly where they will take their basic training, where they will be assigned after basic, when they will leave for overseas, where they are going over there, and when they will return home.

Units presently scheduled for overseas are quartermaster, airborne, armored and transportation units.

Bill Miller

Edward Schmidt

COLUMBUS — Named best out of Ohio's 50,000 newspaperboys for 1956, Edward P. Schmidt of Hamilton and Donald W. Miller of Columbus today were announced as the Senior and Junior Award winners in the fifth annual Glenn L. Cox Newspaperboy Achievement Award competition, sponsored by the Ohio Newspaper Association and the Ohio Circulation Managers Association.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt

of the Ohio Supreme Court will present award certificates tonight to the two boys at the annual convention banquet of the Ohio Newspaper Association in the Deshler Hilton Hotel. Checks for $100 will also be presented to each young man by the circulation directors of the newspapers which they deliver.

Final judges who selected the two winning boys were President George A. Bowman of Kent State University, a former newspaperboy; Judge Clay Dietrich, Portage County Juvenile Court, also a former newspaperboy, and Rev. Herbert G. Myers, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Ravenna.

The judges had high praise for all newspaper carriers whose names were submitted for judging. "It was a case of deciding on superior excellence within excellence," Rev. Myers commented.

Mistreatment Of Recruits Probed

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Authorities at this Marine Corps depot, where six recruits drowned on a disciplinary march last April, began an investigation today of "several" recruits' charges that drill instructors had mistreated them.

The public information office said four drill instructors assigned to Platoon 399 have been removed from instruction duty during the inquiry, expected to last 10 days or more.

A spokesman said two instructors have been accused of striking recruits during training maneuvers. None of the instructors has been charged.

At the San Diego, Calif., Marine recruit depot, a spokesman disclosed Wednesday that a drill instructor there was broken from corporal to private first class, relieved of his duties and ordered transferred to another base for striking a recruit.

The spokesman said E. M. Logue, 21, of Atlantic, Iowa, struck the recruit, Pvt. Richard Rezendes, 17, of Hayward, Calif., twice in the stomach Jan. 28 during an interview about the recruit's military proficiency.

Poland To Seek American Goods

Delegation To Ask For 100 Million In Credit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Poland's Communist government will send a mission here to negotiate for about 100 million dollars in credits to buy American machinery, cotton and other goods.

Poland's acceptance of a U.S. invitation was announced Thursday by State Department press officer Lincoln White, who said he expected the talks to begin soon. From other sources it was learned the United States is ready to open the negotiations early next week.

This is the latest American move in a drive to help the Poles in their newly charted course of independence of Soviet domination. Last month, Poland was made eligible to buy surplus farm commodities at world prices — lower than those prevailing in the United States.

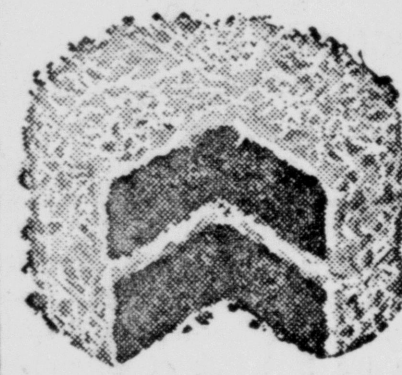

According to diplomatic officials the Polish economy is in bad shape after years of shipping goods to Russia on unfavorable terms.

High Cards

The Suez crisis will not be when ships pass through the canal without incident, on terms agreeable to all parties concerned.

But it has occurred to a great many people that the blocking of the canal was not a cause but only a result of the crisis that began when Egypt seized the waterway. When the blockade has been broken by the end of February and the canal cleared for normal operation by the end of February, that will renew the crisis, not remove it.

Col. Nasser again will hold the high cards in a game with nations which must play with him against their will because they depend on the Suez Canal. But this time there will be two games going on, not one. And Col. Nasser will not hold the high cards in the other game, which is the economic pinching game.

Everything Egyptians must buy now is scarcer and costlier. Everything Egyptians must sell in order to live has hit the skids because their government has dislocated normal channels of trade. Col. Nasser has destroyed confidence in Egypt abroad and at home. His threat of nationalism has paralyzed enterprise. He has cut off his country from suppliers and customers.

Even if the Suez crisis could be liquidated overnight, there is a greater crisis to be concerned about — one that cannot be relieved by floating a few sunken vessels and dynamiting the debris of wrecked bridges.

This one can be relieved only by changing government.

Not For Just A Day

Although the one-day seminar of Republicans opposed to Dwight Eisenhower in Chicago next Saturday does not sound important, the opposition it reflects is not for just one day. It is permanent and irreconcilable.

The speakers at the seminar—men like Sen. McCarthy, Sen. Helms, Sen. Jenner and Gov. Bracken Lee of Utah — have important financial backing. They also have important allies.

One twist of the political wrist, and they and their sympathizers would be in control of most important committee posts in the Senate. The addition of one more Republican senator would provide the twist.

Besides the influence of the leaders of the Eisenhower opposition group, moreover, is the considerable backing they muster among their constituents in the Middle West.

When they call themselves the "real Republicans" and accuse the President's backers of being fakes and imposters, they are as close to the truth as are reactionary southern Democrats who call themselves the "real Democrats."

Both major parties have irreconcilable right-wing factions. The difference is that the Democrats' faction is sitting pretty, thanks to Democratic majorities in both houses of Congress, while the Republicans' faction is holding one-day seminars in Chicago.

Cheerful Item From Detroit

With deep respect for those farsighted users of newspaper advertising, the automobile manufacturers, there is one advertising claim they neglect.

Instead of telling us how much faster their cars will go and how much longer and more expensive they are, they should appeal to our sense of security more strongly.

It is cheerful news from Detroit, therefore, that auto engineers are at work on better brake systems to stop the high-powered, heavy-weighted, plush-lined juggernauts they have made universally available.

This is the kind of engineering challenge it is good to know Detroit is doing something about, because once those fellows get their slide rules into a thing they never let go.

If they conclude the only safe way to stop more than a ton of metal hurtling along at speeds in the 100 mph range is to add an auxiliary brake that will grab the operator's accelerator leg and jerk it upward when he gets to 60, it will be the biggest thing since Charles Kettering came out with the self-starter.

Something Fancy

If there is going to be an argument about an official motto for Ohio, it should be free and open. All of us should get into it.

Those who think the state's unofficial motto, which official was ash-canned 89 years ago, should be officialized seem partial to it soiled because it is in Latin — Imperium in Imperio.

If you are rusty in Latin, as 999 out of 1,000 of us are, that means "an empire within an empire." Unfortunately, empire has become a dirty word in this century. Anyone calling either the United States or Ohio an empire gets his mouth washed out with the self-starter.

There used to be a joke about the labor union that delegated a brother to draw a fancy coat of arms with a Latin inscription on it. He came back with a drawing of a grinding wheel shooting off sparks and a one-word inscription—Carborundum.

It means "grind 'em down!" he explained. If Ohio must have something in Latin, why not "Excelsior!"

This old state sure packs 'em in.

Constitutional Right

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Individual May Spend Own Money For Candidate

There's nothing in the Constitution which says a person cannot spend as much of his own money as he pleases to persuade other persons to vote for a particular candidate for public office.

In these days of solicitude for "civil rights," talk has arisen nevertheless about enacting a new law to limit campaign contributions. It relates to a possible requirement that only limited amounts of money may be placed in a party treasury or in the hands of an organized political committee.

The whole theory behind the Federal Corrupt Practices Act is that organized effort may be regulated only if it be used for some corrupt or illicit purpose. But the courts in the last few years have told the Department of Justice it could not invoke the Federal Corrupt Practices Act to prosecute a labor union in Michigan that was financing a television program on which speakers favorable to its viewpoint appeared during an election campaign.

While it is true, of course, that corporations and unions are by law forbidden to make any campaign contributions, this cannot prevent union members or corporation stockholders from acting as individuals outside the unions or corporations.

Some form of regulation — such as disclosure of funds contributed by anyone — can be valid without in any way altering the right of the individual to give as much money as he pleases to the cause in which he believes.

IT IS ONE thing to require publicity for campaign contributions and a different and doubtful procedure to try to limit by law the size of the contribution.

The same Constitution which permits a law to say that a foundation may spend tax-free income derived from philanthropic bequests and use millions of dollars a year to influence public opinion on any cause, ranging from socialism and theoretical communism to an espousal of the free-enterprise system, can be invoked by any citizen to safeguard his freedom of speech when he spends money as an individual in a political campaign.

If Congress could say, for example, that no more than $500 or $5,000 may be spent to elect a candidate for public office, it could constitutionally say also what sums may be expended by the citizen for any purpose related to the selection of a nominee for office.

The citizen might then be forbidden to use his automobile to transport persons to the polls, as this would be a "contribution." He might be prohibited from letting his home be used as a meeting place or from serving any refreshments to his guests if they talked about the current campaign.

The word "contribution" is defined by present law as "anything of value," yet corporate employees and union members continue to draw their regular salaries while spending days at a time at a campaign headquarters or making election speeches.

THE SUPREME COURT in 1948, moreover, upheld the right of a union to publish and distribute its own newspaper and insert political messages therein. The court refused to ban this expenditure of funds as illegal. Yet when a corporation publishes a message giving its views on public questions, it is improperly subjected to criticism.

The Bill of Rights of the Constitution protects freedom of speech. Under it, any man has a right to advocate any cause during or before any campaign.

Expenditures may be made by the individual for any purpose except to impinge on the rights of other voters or to participate in any kind of fraud or deception.

It is constitutional to prohibit anyone from attempting to bribe or unduly influence a candidate for public office in order to obtain some personal favor or beneficial action by such individual when elected but it is hard to see how a citizen who spends his money to help elect someone and doesn't ask a thing for himself can be told he can spend only a specified sum.

BROADLY SPEAKING, Congress has the right to control federal elections, though for years there were legal doubts as to whether federal laws could regulate expenditures in primary contests for federal office.

Certainly there is no federal right to control the spending of individuals for local purposes—for county or state candidates. How, for instance, can a political committee which is set up to help both state and federal candidates be required to separate exactly how much it is spending for each when it erects a banner or some other big sign on the highway which says merely "Vote Democratic" or "Vote Republican"?

The subject of limiting campaign contributions has been up again and again for consideration by Congress. Every now and then — as happened last week — there is issued a report by a congressional committee pointing with criticism to the large amounts of money contributed to political parties by various individuals and families with wealth.

All the money, however, contributed by the very rich is small in proportion to the total sum collected.

THE INFERENCE that the rich get something out of it that nobody else does or that there is something wrong with large contributions, is derived from past evidence of alleged irregularities.

Congress, of course, can still refuse to admit to membership anyone for whom an excessive amount was spent or anyone who himself has been engaged in wrongful practices to secure an election victory.

To declare, on the other hand, that an individual can be limited in what he contributes when it is spent for a lawful purpose and without any connection with any bribe or improper influence, is to say that the individual can be prevented by law from spending his money for a cause that seems worthy to him.

There is nothing in the Constitution which says the citizen can be deprived of such a civil right.

To Soothe Or To Stir?

By DAVID BARNETT

Is the national anthem being used for devious purposes? Is the glorious U.S. Flag being used for mere decoration? Congresswoman Katharine St. George thinks so and is doing something about it.

She has introduced legislation stating firmly that the Star-Spangled Banner should not be played "for the purpose of stopping a public disturbance."

And she is "looking into" the possibility of introducing a "code" to provide for proper use of the flag.

"I don't think," Mrs. St. George, said "that the flag should be used on lampposts as decorations. It's in very poor taste."

"In other countries, they are very punctilious about the use of the flag. Some of my friends from Britain are shocked when they see the American Flag on the front of cars — or even bicycles."

Mrs. St. George said she had been disturbed about the use of the anthem to quiet down unruly crowds for some time.

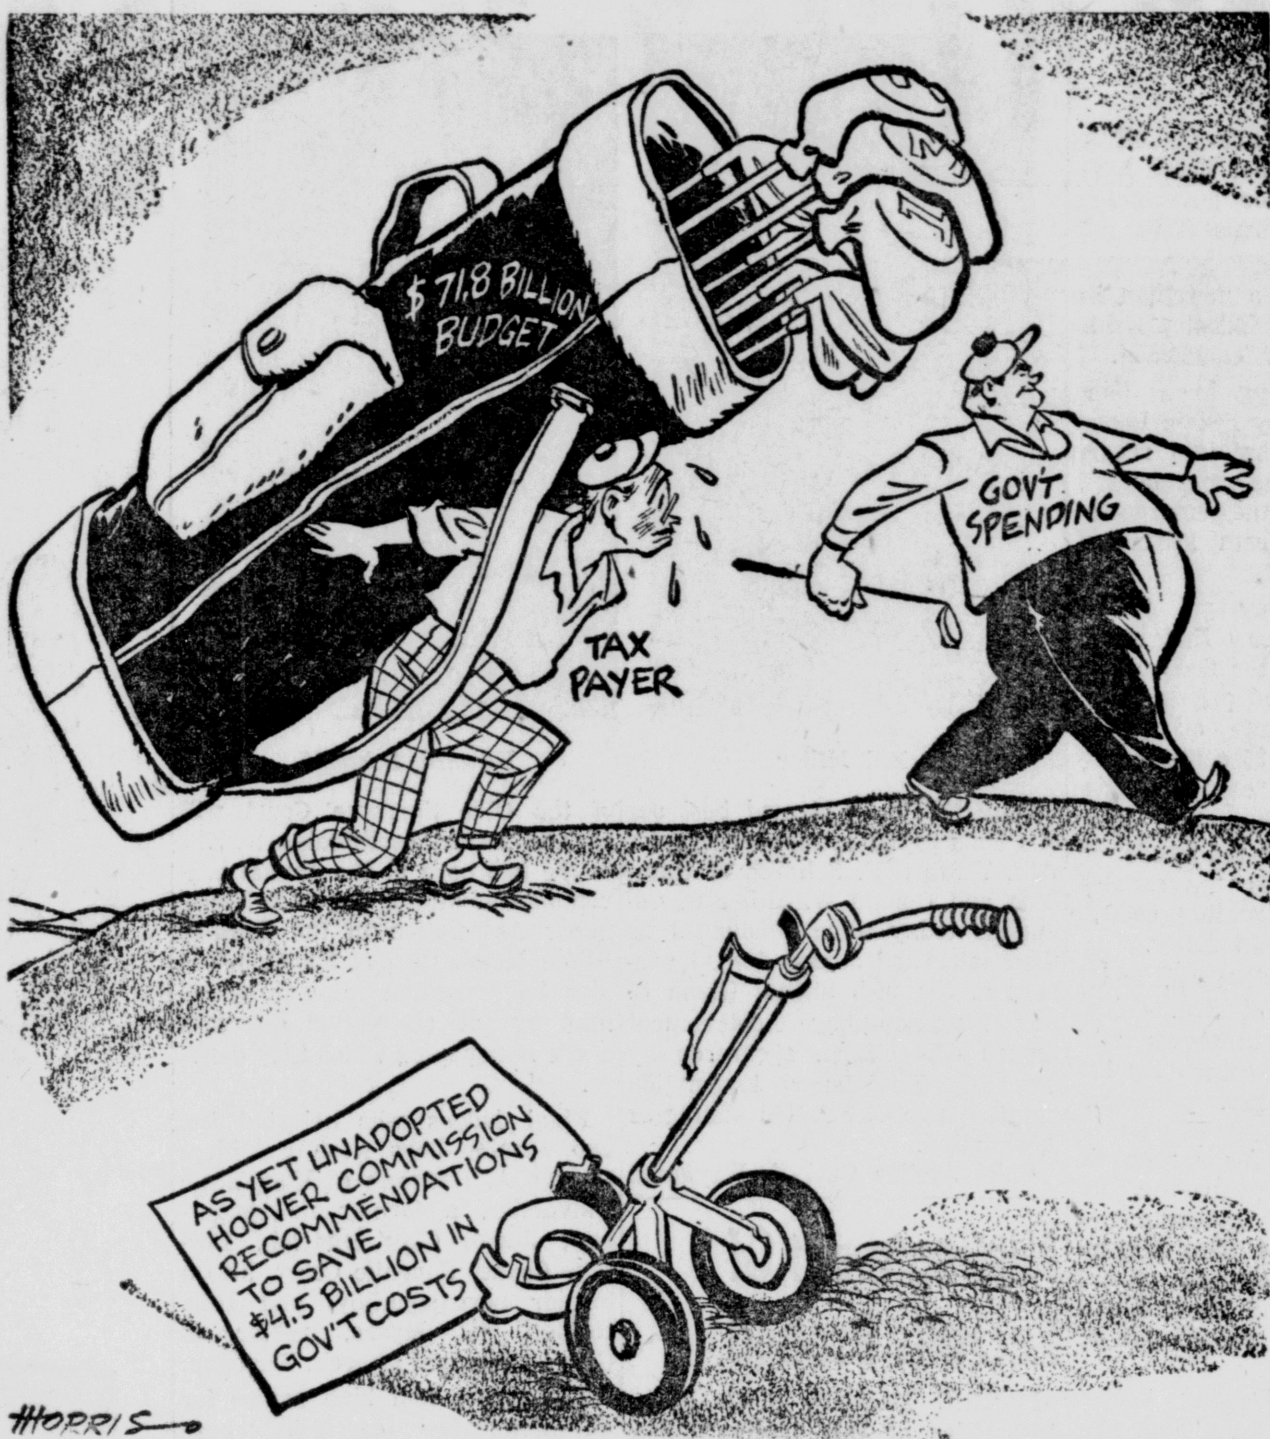

She was moved to act, however, by a letter from a school group in Middletown, N. Y. The youngsters, who were studying civics, decided the anthem should mean more than just a gimmick to get order. They called such use "unpatriotic."

The congresswoman said the Daughters of the American Rev-

Heretic's View Of Foreign Aid

By RAYMOND MOLEY

"It seems perfectly legitimate to discuss the dimensions of our aid programs, so long as we don't try to reduce them; the beneficiaries of the programs, so long as we don't raise questions as to their politics or performance and the methods of providing aid, so long as we don't injure the finer sensibilities of the recipients."

To go beyond that is to invite castigation as a heretic, a reactionary, or worse yet, an isolationist.

It was with this challenging introduction that an American businessman of recognized capacity and of proved compassionate instincts recently examined the fundamental premises of our expenditures of some 55 billion dollars to date. The speaker was H. W. Balgooyen, executive vice president of the American and Foreign Power Company.

Mr. Balgooyen went on to make the point that no one really regards these programs as humanitarian. Even their most ardent exponents put them on the basis of protecting our national interests.

AMONG THE VARIOUS reasons offered in support of foreign economic aid, two named by Mr. Balgooyen stand out. They are:

"We must build up the economic and social 'infrastructure' of the underdeveloped countries, so that a base will be provided for investment, capital formation and trade."

"We must help these countries to improve the standard of living of their people, so that they will be more resistant to communism."

There is a very strong feeling among the people at the United Nations, including Americans, that this sort of thing should not be done by the United States at all, but through (with our money, of course) the SUNFED (Special United Nations Fund for Economic Development).

Mr. Balgooyen admits that in the first of the categories above there is a limited field for extending aid on humanitarian grounds. These extensions of aid, however, should in the main be to meet emergencies and they should be given without the implication that we do it in our self-interest or that we expect to be repaid with gratitude or friendship.

THE LATTER category should be left to private enterprise and the concern of our government should be to encourage the creation of conditions that will make the inflow of private capital possible.

But, says Mr. Balgooyen, the most seductive reason given for extending economic aid is that if the standard of living of foreign populations can be raised, they will be better able to resist the blandishments of communism.

Of this, Mr. Balgooyen says: "No doubt, this will mark me as a real heretic, but I believe it would be worthwhile to re-examine one of the major premises underlying the whole argument for our foreign economic aid programs — namely, that people lacking in material wealth are peculiarly susceptible to communism or the corollary that economic aid in the form of gifts or grants will build up their resistance against Communist subversion."

"I have never seen satisfactory evidence to support this belief. It hasn't been true in our own country or is it generally true in other parts of the world."

"Where do we find the majority of our home-grown Communists? Do we find them in the poverty-stricken, underdeveloped areas of Arkansas or Alabama, or in the prosperous and highly industrialized cities of New York and California?"

"ARE THERE more Communists in the underdeveloped regions of India, Italy or rural France or in the industrialized cities of these countries?"

"Why is there so little communism in a poor country like Ireland and so much in a comparatively rich country like France?"

"They are found among the pseudo-intellectuals, the eggheads, the misanthropes—the cynical exploiters of their fellow men."

"Where the Communists have made the greatest gains they have achieved them, not with gifts but by means of person-to-person contacts, propaganda, promises and educational work which seem to have more than offset all our generosity and good deeds."

"In our strange obsession with the economic aspects of the cold war, we seem to have failed to comprehend the true nature of communism — that it really is more of a philosophy or a religion than an economic movement—and that its gains have been due to the fact that its adherents believe in it and work for it, with a zeal unknown to most of us who are recipients of the blessings of political liberty and economic freedom."

Money Market Eases

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Easing of the money market — was it just the traditional January thaw? — and the tendency of the public to slow up on its steady march into debt is giving the U. S. Treasury a chance to test a middle length security offering.

Uncle Sam has been running low on cash for some time. And every week or so he has been borrowing a little more by tapping the short term market.

Today he is offering investors a three year, three month note with interest of 3½ per cent — highest rate paid since the depression.

The expectation is that the money market, so tight for months, has loosened up enough to make funds available.

Whether money is easier just now because it usually is in the first weeks of the year, or whether there is a real easing in demand for credit on the part of business, governments and consumers isn't clear yet.

The success of the treasury offering when the books are closed tomorrow may shed some light on how much of a thaw there has been in the money freeze.

More money has been available because after Christmas businessmen repay their bank loans, taken out to finance the producing and stocking of goods, and because individuals pay their bills.

The real clue to the state of the money market will come, however, when the demand for more credit is established.

When the Treasury goes into the longer term market for funds, as it is doing today, it competes with businessmen and individuals seeking funds for expansion or mortgages, and with state and local governments seeking funds for construction of schools and roads and the like.

Until a short time ago this demand was so great the supply of investment funds was pinched. Now the Treasury thinks there is enough around to let it lengthen out its debt a bit.

This the Treasury has long wanted to do. This year some 43 billion dollars of federal debt come due for redemption. The need to be going into the money market every little while with new issues — and in recent months always at a higher interest charge — is one of the big headaches of the Secretary of the Treasury.

The interest on the federal debt has mounted above seven billion dollars a year. A little paring of the federal debt total is hoped for later this year, but the increased interest charges probably will keep the interest total at its high level.

Bankers aren't sure that the pressures are easing. Present conditions may be only temporary. Businessmen are still talking big plans for more expansion, which will require credit. The need of local governments to finance improvements is far from met.

Elvis And The Bugle Call

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Army denies an exception will be made in a GI haircut for Elvis Presley or that he will be assigned to soft duty. It thinks that if Russia is ahead of us in long range mandolins and guided "sideburns" it is okay.

The army song for Elvis could be "You'll never get rich by quiver and twitch; you're in the Army now."

He can give KP duty a new twist.

THERE IS WIDESPREAD interest in Presley's induction. He could be our secret weapon, our intercontinental projectile for creating hysteria among Soviet females and be feared by their boy friends as a "flying sorcerer."

We are still experimenting with something that will take man to the moon. But Presley got up into the heights of outer space with a glove-circling hound dog. Nothing could shoot him down but a draft board.

Elvis makes no squawks and says he will do his army stretch as any man should. We are sure he will try, but his amazing career has hardly conditioned him for "squads right" and "on the double." We think he will be disappointed that the army tanks come in modest colors and that there are no Fleetwood trucks.

It will be disconcerting when he is summoned to the top sergeant's tent and can't make the trip in a choice of five Cadillacs.

HOW WILL HE FEEL when he appears on guard duty and no wild screams greet him?

How will any lad in his position react when he hears a bugle instead of a full orchestra? Is it reasonable to expect Elvis to retain his high morale if he comes dashing from a dog tent to the chow line and NOBODY SWOONS?

Presley's rise is one of the most sensational in the history of show business. Within a couple of years he leaped from obscurity to the millionaire class.

Fabulous offers have poured in. Nothing has been too luxurious for him. How is he going to take it, game as he may be, on a few dollars a month, canned eggs and no applause unless he knocks out an enemy stronghold?

Good luck, Elvis. And remember that when the captain says he can use you on the rifle range you can't say, "See my agent."

A ROBOT mutual machine has been invented. . . . A better puts his ticket in the slot, presses levers and gets his choice. . . . But what does he do for insults? Racing fans are so accustomed to irascibility from overstrained window clerks that they won't feel comfortable without it. . . . The machine will not be a success until there is a slot in which you drop a coin and get the words, "Don't gimme no argument."

Hobo Becomes a Bum

It's a little early for talk of baseball even among those who imagine that if you turn TV on in winter you'll just get a picture of an empty ball park. But sometimes events simply demand attention.

In that category is the Brooklyn Dodgers' signing of the famed circus clown, Emmett Kelly, who for many years has transfixed circus audiences with the hurt look of a wounded moose.

Kelly's assignment isn't too clear, but apparently it's to be rather taxing. He's been asked to show up for spring training in Florida a few weeks hence.

He's an old hand with pool balls, and possibly with a quick switch to baseball he can look pretty tricky and amusing on the field in almost no time.

Other clowns have worked for baseball teams, but they had been players first. The most noted, of course, were Al Schacht and Nick Altrock, who cavorted for the Washington Senators.

Some baseball sages would go so far as to suggest there have been quite a few unintentional clowns on the field, too. And they would add that the Dodgers have had perhaps more than their share.

Kelly may feel quite at home with the fabled Bums. And don't be surprised if that day comes when the announcer says, "Emmett Kelly now playing left field for Brooklyn."

Railroad Hazards

By NATHAN POLOWETZKY
For Hal Boyle

LONDON (AP) — If you want excitement take a job running a railroad in Kenya.

There are lions to fight and elephants to dodge. Keeps a man fit all the time.

Malcolm H. Archer, public relations officer of the East African Railway and Harbors, Nairobi, is reading about the troubles of railroading in some countries, recounted some of EARH's difficulties in a letter to The Times.

Out of the archives of his firm he dug up these historic messages:

From station master, Irina, to game warden, Tsavo Royal National Park, November, 1954: "You required urgently at Irina station to watch and kill notorious lion hunting railway staff after 6 p.m. daily."

Then there was one on Jan. 29, 1954, from the assistant station master, Kanga, to the district traffic superintendent, Mombasa: "Yard congested with about eleven elephants. . . points will not be manned."

More recently, in August 1955, there flashed this message from the station master, Voi, to district traffic superintendent, Mombasa: "Urgent—Assistant station master Odeke narrowly escaped from being caught by lion assisted by traveling ticket examiner of 2 down train. All staff unwilling to do night working. Afford protection."

And in June, 1956, the station master, Bukoko, wired the district traffic superintendent, Kampala: "One buffalo at mile 728-chasing gangman. Work stopped. Arrange early shooting."

It was the same—or even worse—back in the early 1900's.

One message in May 1901 from station master, Tsavo, to traffic manager, Nairobi, stated: "Just a lion twice or three to break office and fencing doors, leaving office door on bell ringing half-hour. Myself and family, consisting of two wives and three children, narrowly escaping danger of life. Now seeking safety in office. Cannot dare give 'line clear' signal to oncoming train. Please arrange matter own personal satisfaction and dispose of two lions who great bane of my existence."

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturiz-

Phantom Sniper Goes On Spree

Man Nabbed After Night Of Terror

DETROIT — A phantom gunman whose nighttime sniping terrorized women in suburban north Detroit since Christmas broke out in a wild shooting spree Thursday night blazing a trail through four communities.

Prowling the area in a car, the trigger-happy sniper wounded two girls, fired on women standing in bus stops and peppered cars and homes with .22-caliber rifle shots.

Two hours after the first shot was fired, police nabbed Gary Addison Taylor, 20, of suburban Southfield Township. He was cornered after a wild hide-and-seek police car chase that led down side streets and alleys.

Admits Being Sniper

Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor William Lang said Taylor told him he was the phantom sniper.

Lang quoted Taylor as saying, "I just had an urge to shoot at women."

Lang said Taylor, a factory worker, appeared to be a mild-mannered, shy youth.

He was held without charge.

Thursday night's outbreak began when Shirley Eland, 19, was shot in the shoulder as she stepped onto the porch of her home in Bloomfield Hills about 20 miles north of Detroit. She was not seriously hurt.

Then the gunman headed through southern Oakland County toward Detroit.

A bullet was fired from a passing car at two women standing in a Royal Oak bus stop. The shot went between them, piercing the cloth of both their coats.

Five minutes later a shot zinged through the rear of a station wagon about three blocks south of the bus stop.

In the next 30 minutes shots were reported by an 18-year-old girl who was fired on but not hit, by four home owners whose windows were shattered, and by Vincent McCarthy, whose 11-year-old daughter Carol Ann was hit. The bullet grazed her cheek as she sat on a sofa in the living room of her home.

The sniper first struck the night of Dec. 22 when he shot a girl in the back. She was not seriously injured.

The sniping was sporadic after that. Most of the targets were women.

Couple Holds Hands, Plunge To Deaths

NEW YORK — A distraught Brooklyn couple clasped hands and plunged 15 stories to their death early today about three hours after their 5-year-old daughter died under mysterious circumstances.

Police said they could not determine until an autopsy later today whether the little girl perished of illness or a mishap, or was killed. However, there was no mark of violence on her body.

The victims of the family tragedy were Joseph T. Kennedy, 46, his wife, Nan, 42, and their child, Valerie.

The couple, wed in 1948, had been plagued for years by illness and perhaps financial troubles.

The family lived in a one-bedroom apartment on the 15th floor of an apartment building in Brooklyn. The family physician described Kennedy as being a hypochondriac over a longtime stomach ailment. Mrs. Kennedy suffered from asthma. The doctor knew of no ailment affecting the child.

Saudi buys his guns, tanks and planes from the United States now. He is understood to have assured Eisenhower he wants to keep on doing that, and also to get free U.S. weapons without having to sign a treaty which would put American technicians in control of such weapons.

Saudi's deputy foreign minister Yusuf Yasin was emphatic in telling reporters Thursday night: "We have agreed on everything we have discussed."

Yasin made this statement as he emerged from final detailed negotiations with Secretary of State Dulles at the State Department.

Hayes said final grading and back filling cannot be completed until weather permits.

Haiti Finally Has President

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti — Haiti finally has a new provisional president after a five-day crisis. The Legislature picked Franck Sylva, lawyer and presidential candidate, in defiance of constitutional requirements.

Sylva, an authority on constitutional law, succeeds Joseph Nemours Pierre-Louis. He was forced out Sunday by the current popular procedure of ousting presidents by means of a general strike.

Pierre-Louis' predecessor, Gen. Paul Magloire, fled into exile after the same treatment in December. Pierre-Louis, however, is expected to remain in the country.

The constitution says the senior justice of the Supreme Court shall be installed as president when the office is vacated. But senators and deputies called this clause "obsolete and incompatible in the present political crisis."

Cleveland, Philadelphia Having Trouble Signing Players

Indian Stars Still Unsigned

Cardinals Only Team Set With Contracts

By SHELTON SAKOWITZ
The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals are the only major league team with all players signed for 1957. Other clubs are having difficulty with spring training only three weeks away.

An Associated Press survey disclosed today that the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Phils are having the most trouble. Each has some 25 players unsigned.

General Manager Frank Lane completed signing Cardinal players when Stan Musial agreed to terms last week. His contract calls for a reported $80,000.

Among lagging Indians are Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Vic Wertz, Bobby Avila and Chico Carrasquel.

Phil's out of the fold include Richie Ashburn, Curt Simmons, Willie Jones, Granny Hamner and Ted Kazanski.

The Milwaukee Braves list 20 players unsigned. Among the regulars are Warren Spahn, Lou Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Ernie Johnson, Dave Jolly, Lou Sleater, Jack Dittmer, Johnny Logan, Frank Torre, Bill Bruton and Wes Covington. Hank Aaron, National League batting champion, agreed to terms Thursday night.

The New York Giants have not received seven contracts, while the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs still have six unsigned players each.

Only one member of the Brooklyn Dodgers is among the unsigned, Sandy Amoros. Cincinnati has two to go — Johnny Klippstein and George Crowe.

In the American League the New York Yankees have signed up their top two money-makers, Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle, but they have a host of veterans among 22 players still unsigned. The list includes Don Larsen, Hank Bauer, Bill Skowron, Andy Carey, Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant, Bob Turley, Bob Grim, Elston Howard, Irv Noren, Tommy Byrne, Mickey McDermott and Tom Morgan.

The Kansas City A's have 20 players yet to come to terms.

The Boston Red Sox report 16 players have not returned their contracts signed, but on Wednesday General Manager Joe Cronin landed the big catch — Ted Williams for a $100,000 pact.

The Washington Senators list 13 unsigned. Twelve Chicago White Sox players have failed to sign, including Minnie Minoso, Nellie Fox and Dick Donovan.

Some 10 signatures have not been affixed to Detroit Tiger contracts. Among the name players are Billy Hoelt, Eddie Robinson, Bob Kennedy, J. W. Porter and Jim Bredeweser. The Baltimore Orioles have nine to go to complete their roster.

Goldstein Testifies On Fix Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Go down and stay down in the fourth."

Those were his instructions from Art Aragon, third-ranking welterweight, prior to a bout scheduled for Dec. 18 in San Antonio, Tex., boxer Dick Goldstein testified Thursday.

Aragon, the "Golden Boy" of Los Angeles fight circles, is charged with fight fixing. The bout never came off. Aragon, 29, cancelled out on the day of the fight because of a fever.

Goldstein, 26, told a jury of six men and six women that Aragon summoned him to his North Hollywood home Dec. 8.

"He told me that only on one condition would I get the fight — that I go down in the fourth," he testified.

"I was to come out and box the first round, take a knockdown in the second and go down and stay down in the fourth."

Aragon has denied asking Goldstein to take a dive. As the trial began he told newsmen: "I welcome this chance to be publicly exonerated."

Don Rex Clark Named Head Coach At USC

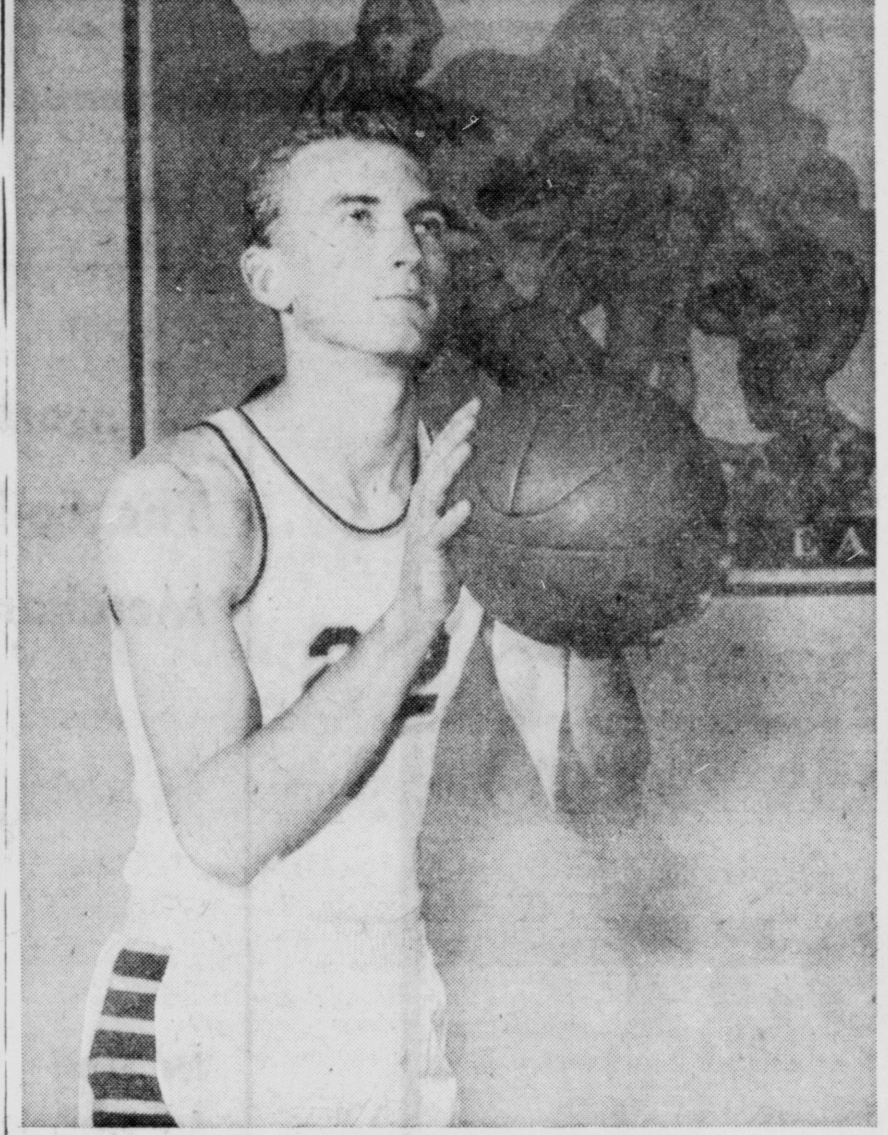

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A year's search for a football coach at the University of Southern California has ended with the selection of Don Rex Clark, an assistant to Jess Hill for the last six years. Hill advances to the post of athletic director this summer.

Clark, 33, assumes a head coaching job for the first time. He was a first rate guard for the Trojans, served with the 99th division in World War II, won a battlefield commission in the Battle of the Bulge, played two years of pro football with the San Francisco 49ers, was drafted by Eddie Erdelatz of the Navy to design defense patterns, then persuaded to come back to USC by Hill.

Clark was given a four-year contract. The salary was not disclosed.

Hawkins Nears Scoring Record

Wynn Hawkins

Baldwin-Wallace College's basketball scoring ace, Wynn Hawkins of New Waterford, has averaged 15.4 points per game in 10 games played thus far this season, despite an ankle injury that has kept him sidelined much of the time.

Wynn, who is shy of the college's single player scoring record of 1,283 points set from 1950 through 1952, needs only 223 points to tie the record. He has tallied 1,060 points in his two and one-half

Cage Players, Fathers Booster Club Guests

High School basketball players and their fathers were guests Thursday night at a meeting of the Booster Club in the Memorial Building.

Players from the freshman, reserve and varsity squads were introduced by Coaches John Cabas and Karl Zellers. The players then introduced their fathers.

Movies of games played this season by the Quakers, and championship diving at Ohio State University were shown. Lunch was served.

Hockey Star Sidelined By Severe Injuries

By DAVE DILES
The Associated Press

Doctors say severe facial cuts and complicated fractures sustained by Jerry Toppazzini in a collision with Detroit's Ted Lindsay will sideline the Boston Bruins right winger for the rest of the National Hockey League season.

Bruin coach Milt Schmidt accused the veteran Detroit player of deliberately leaping at Toppazzini during a scramble for the puck in Thursday night's game in Detroit, won by the third-place Bruins 1-0.

"There was no accident about that," said Schmidt in the Boston dressing room minutes after Toppazzini's injury that came with less than three minutes to play in the exciting contest. "Lindsay jumped right at Topper with his stick."

Lindsay drew a major penalty (five minutes) for high-sticking and when he protested the call to referee Red Storey, got a 10-minute misconduct penalty which carries with it an automatic $25 fine by the NHL.

But the 31-year-old forward now in his 13th big league season denied there was anything deliberate or malicious about his crash with the Boston player.

"The puck was loose and Toppazzini and I both were going after it," said Lindsay, one of the game's most aggressive players and currently the league's leading scorer. "I jumped for it and so did he. I wasn't trying to clobber the guy — we were a goal behind with just a couple of minutes left to play — I certainly wasn't trying to get a penalty."

The only score was Don McKenney's first period goal, and the Bruins made it stick for their fifth victory in six starts.

The New York Rangers twice battled from behind, finally using Danny Lewicki's goal for a 4-4 deadlock with the Chicago Black Hawks.

Toppazzini's injury is a serious blow to the Bruins, putting up their stoutest battles in nearly a decade. The 25-year-old "Topper" is the club's leading scorer with 38 points on 15 goals and 23 assists.

Doctors treated Toppazzini at Olympia Stadium, and 16 stitches were required to close lacerations about his right eye, across his nose and around his lips.

Hal Newhouse, former Detroit Tiger pitcher star, is scouting for the Baltimore Orioles.

Jerry's Recreation Forfeits Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — When the TV camera flees a player brawl during a sports event and plants a patch of empty end zone or a fluttering pennant on your screen, it is simply "good taste" or is it censorship?

An Associated Press survey today found that's a tough question for TV executives. "Good taste," naturally, is arbitrary. "Censorship" is an ugly word.

But either way, it can be a pain in the neck to the armchair fan. Funny thing is, if you ever have had the experience of missing a player scrap on TV because the camera looked the other way, two of the three major networks state you were seeing things, pal, when you thought you were seeing nothing. Seems they insist they have their cameras on all the hassles.

Only the National Broadcasting Co. frankly admits its cameras "would not stay on a fight" because of editorial policy concerning "good taste."

But as far as the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. are concerned, when one player puts the slug on another you'll see it. It develops, however, that what is considered "not good taste" in one sport by CBS camera-crew director is perfectly all right for momma and the kids to see in another sport, covered by another camera director.

Take pro football and hockey. Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, states that the sport wants to highlight "the clean play and sportsmanship of the game" and "if people want to watch fights, let them tune in on Wednesday nights."

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, however, says "if a sport fan is willing to pay to see a game at an arena he will see everything that takes place—and the TV cameras should pick up everything, too."

CBS televises both sports and agreed with both Bell and Campbell. Just last Saturday, TV fans had a whale of a look-in on a wild player melee during the New York Rangers-Detroit Red Wings hockey game. The TV cameras were focused on the whole show.

Yet it was CBS coverage of last December's bout between the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions for

TV Argues It's 'Good Taste' Not To Show Players Fighting

The Bakers Dozen Club is composed of men and boys who are interested in the art of building, developing and flying model airplanes, principally gasoline engine free flight, radio controlled and u-controlled planes. They meet on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in the Gordon Leather Shop.

Contest prizes will be awarded in the following classifications:

2. Rubber powered build-up fuselage planes.

Age brackets for entrants are up to 8 years; 9-12; 13-15; and 16 over, open.

Howie Johnson Leads Tucson Open Tourney

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Talkative Howie Johnson, a happy-go-lucky newcomer who licked a heart condition to play golf, led a tightly bunched field into the second round of the $15,000 Tucson Open today.

"Boy, I played good," he gloated over Thursday's 6-under-par 64 on the 6,434-yard El Rio course. "It's the first time I've ever led a pro tournament. I like it."

"I have a good time on the course. I talk all the time. It keeps me loose."

Johnson has had health problems since he was a youngster in St. Paul, Minn. Rheumatic fever damaged his heart, but he was able to play for the University of Minnesota golf team. Then heart trouble put him back in the hospital while he was in the Air Force during World War II.

"I wasn't doing well after I went home to St. Paul so I moved to Houston nine years ago," he said. "Now I'm fine. The doctor said I could play golf so long as my heart doesn't bother me. It doesn't."

Johnson came in late to edge Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and Joe Zakarian of Modesto, Calif., by one stroke.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., one of the strong favorites, was one of a group of five starting today with 66s.

The others are Bill Casper Jr., Bonita, Calif., surprise winner at Phoenix last week; Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., former U.S. Open champ; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., the biggest money winner of 1957; and Jimmy Clark, Studio City, Calif.

Martinez To Box Courchesne Tonight

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Imagine the confusion among batters if Don Newcombe would throw one pitch right-handed and the next left-handed? That's how opponents of Isidro Martinez feel when the featherweight from Panama starts switching styles.

Bobby Courchesne, a rough and ready young man from Holyoke, Mass., will try to solve Martinez's bewildering moves tonight in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden.

Network customers who got a kick out of Martinez' first U. S. appearance last month will be able to follow him again on NBC radio-TV at 10 p.m. EST. A few people might even show up at the Garden to see the show in the flesh.

The 22-year-old switch hitter from the Canal Zone puzzled Ike Chestnut, a ranking featherweight, to win a unanimous decision at Washington, Jan. 4.

McLish, Pope, Usher Sign Indian Contracts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cal McLish, Dave Pope and Bob Usher have signed their 1957 contracts, the Cleveland Indians announced today.

McLish is a pitcher, Pope an outfielder who may try for the third base position vacated by Al Rosen. Usher is an outfielder who batted .350 at San Diego last year.

The Tribe now has a dozen players under contract.

Hundley Fails To Reach His 2,000 Points

By PETE PEDERSEN

The Associated Press

The college basketball legend of Rodney Hundley will have to wait until Saturday night for its newest chapter.

That chapter, entitled "Hot Rod Reaches the 2,000-Point Mark," may be written when West Virginia invades Richmond for a Southern Conference game.

The script was ready Thursday night when West Virginia battled New York University at Madison Square Garden. Needing 39 points to become the fifth major college player to hit the 2,000-point career mark, Hundley got eight. Exit script.

West Virginia had to struggle for an 83-77 victory. Had it not been for the 26-point barrage by Lloyd Sharrar, the Mountaineers, ranked No. 11 in the Associated Press weekly poll, might have met the same fate as 10th-ranked Wake Forest.

The Deacons, riding a seven-game victory streak, succumbed to South Carolina in an Atlantic Coast Conference surprise 55-49. Grady Wallace of South Carolina, with the third highest scoring average in the nation (29.6) sank 26 of the Gamecocks' 55 points.

In the other Garden game Thursday night, George Washington scared the daylight out of NIT-hopeful Brooklyn St. John's before losing 63-62 in the last minute of play.

Notre Dame trounced touring Portland, Ore., 78-64, and Massachusetts dealt Rhode Island's Yankee Conference title hopes a severe blow with a 7-61 victory. Iowa State swamped state rival Drake 92-71 behind Gary Thompson's 31 points.

Goshen Ends Season With 14-4 Record

Goshen's Gophers, playing their last basketball game of the season Thursday night, were whipped by Champion 75-68 at Champion. The Gophers ended the season with a record of 14 victories and four defeats.

Champion rushed to a 21-16 first period lead.

In the second period Goshen outscored Champion 22 points to 21 but trailed at the intermission 42-38.

In the third stanza both teams cooled off. Goshen again outpointed their opponents 12 points to 11, but still trailed 53-50.

From the field Goshen attempted 68 shots and hit on 25 of these for a 36.7 percentage, and from the foul line they hit on 18 of 26 for a 69.2 percent.

Roger Wyss and Hayes Covert contributed 20 and 15 points, respectively, for the losers, and Brokowitz tallied 19 markers for the winners.

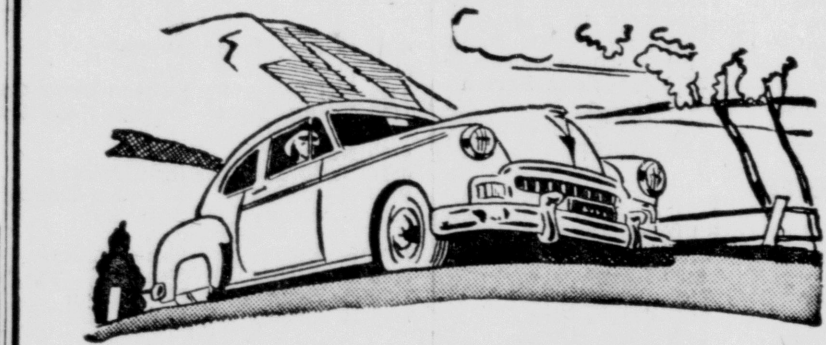

Goshen—68
Stallsmith 2, 3, 7; Covert 6, 3, 15; Wyss 9, 2, 20; Walter 3, 7, 13; Hill 3, 3, 6; Brokowitz 2, 0, 4.
Champion—75
Cleon 6, 4, 16; Brokowitz 7, 5, 19; Kirkwood 4, 9, 17; Diffard 4, 2, 10; Kandel 4, 3, 11; Diehs 0, 1, 1; Goshen 16, 22, 12, 18—68
Champion 21, 21, 11, 22—75

Details of the plan were not disclosed as the committee wound up its sessions Thursday after studying 10 different programs.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said the plan "included a lot of motions not written in formal language" and when this is done it will be announced. It will be detailed and mimeographed and sent to the 12 committee members by Monday. If acceptable in this final form, the membership vote will follow, needing a two-thirds approval of those voting in the mail referendum.

The 1956 NCAA plan had a combination of national and regional TV games and was tabbed by the 1956 committee as the best received program since the NCAA's control started in 1951.

From 1942 to 1946 Dartmouth set an intercollegiate hockey record by playing 46 straight games without suffering a defeat.

Demands Right To Lie

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A bill making false statements to a peace officer unlawful was passed 23-2 by the State Senate, but not without argument. Sen. Earl Parker, Torrance County Democrat, earnestly declared: "I'm against this bill. It strikes to the very foundation of human rights. I say you should have the right to lie to whomever you please."

Atom-Powered Plane Project Slowed Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official disclosure that the atom powered plane project has been slowed down comes from the Pentagon, along with a hint that some guided missiles may be pared out of that weapon development program.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, assistant secretary of defense for research and development, told newsmen Thursday the reasons are technical rather than economical.

Furnas said "you come to a time when all these missiles are all growing up at the same time." If you have 12 children all reaching college age at the same time, he added, "you are going to send the ones to college with the best prospects."

Furnas said he has not "revised" his expressed view that the United States still is ahead of Russia in the technical weapon field.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel
 phone call brought me back from outer space.

The word was that one of labor's national crusading leaders, headquartered in Washington, had been told he'd get his head knocked in if he continued to fight the tough crowd inside labor.

The call came from one of the most respected men around Washington — a sophisticated not easily given to alarm.

The story he had gotten said that the labor crusader had put in a hard night working on the new ethical codes adopted by the AFL-CIO at its Executive Council sessions in Miami Beach.

The next morning the union leader had come down to the Hotel Monte Carlo breakfast room and mentioned almost casually that he had been threatened. This was not the threat of a crank.

THE WORD HAD come from some gravel-voiced goon talking for "the boys." They resented getting a code right in the nose. So the threat was not taken lightly. It had its effect. It made the codes tougher. It made the crusader angrier.

The chap who called me rang off. I was now back from the satellites. Return to realism. But just when I was about to return to the earth I was told that the codes I'd been working on were being thrown out the window.

It calls itself the Allied Industrial Workers Union, AFL-CIO. Its locals have just been investigated by the FBI, the Senate, New York Grand Jurors, Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan and the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

The Allied Industrial Workers' catch — all locals deal in many things — but mostly arrogance.

NO ONE EVER denied the union the right to organize anything from pickle workers to flower bulb raisers. But it did push people around. First little people. Then bigger ones.

Finally it sneered at the U.S. Senate. That was some time ago when Sen. Paul Douglas was looking into men who were so sentimental over money they simply clung to it wherever they found it — in union treasuries and welfare and pension funds.

At the time Sen. Douglas' committee was looking into the wanderings of wayward dollars, he summoned one Anthony Doria to the hearing room.

Mr. Doria is a cynic — a smart one, though — who believes you can outbluff anyone if you are hearty and frank enough.

Mr. Doria also is national secretary treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers.

HE WAS ASKED by Sen. Douglas to bring in his union's records. He didn't.

"Why did you not have your clerks get out of your files such copies of memorandums as you had and bring those along?" Doria was asked.

"There is no one in my office well enough acquainted with those reports to be able to compile them for me," the unionist announced blandly.

"Are you your own filing clerk, Mr. Doria?"

"I am my own filing clerk, auditor, my own accountant, and I do all my work myself, personally, yes."

Doria went on to describe this paper curtain around the union's finances. He said he had no assistants and did all the work of secretary — treasurer of the national union by himself.

But let us not think that Doria is a tight lipped fellow. He went on to explain to the senators just why only he knows what's happening in the heart of the union — its financial department.

"I CAN'T BRING those records in in one week's time. I can't go back into my dead files because here is what happened to our international union. We moved our headquarters approximately a year ago (to Los Angeles). All these records that were in dead storage were bundled and stored."

"Our personnel has changed greatly in the international office... There is only one person left who used to be with us. We have not one single person who can identify these records. These records must be dug out by me. There is no one else there who can identify them."

A report by the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee has just charged this man Doria with having played "a leading role" in securing "paper charts" for a friend of his in New York — a chap named Johnny Dio.

How could I really think I could avoid realism, now that the boys have moved to the edge of Hollywood?

Alliance Favors Free Vaccine Inoculations

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Alliance's City Board of Health Wednesday night went on record as favoring free mass inoculation of all school children here with Salk anti-polio vaccine.

The Stark County Medical Assn. earlier this week said it opposed mass inoculation of children in schools and would provide free shots at doctors' offices only to those too poor to pay for them.

The board of health implemented its stand Wednesday night by sending letters to Alliance City Hospital asking help from its medical staff in giving the shots. And Dr. G. O. Rolland, city health commissioner, has asked the state health department to supply free vaccine.

DEMOCRATS SEEK FUNDS

Plans for the club were outlined by William Coleman, state chairman, at a meeting of the 11th district Democratic chairmen Wednesday. He said club memberships would be sold throughout the state with a quota of 100,000 members proposed.

Conservation Is Duty Of The People, Benson Says

ST. LOUIS — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today conservation is the responsibility of the people and not something to be imposed by the federal government.

Benson said in a speech for the concluding session of an annual convention of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts that a brief toward centralization of power isn't inevitable and "can be slowed down, halted, reversed."

"We are not bypassing state governments," he said. "We are not imposing federal programs on the local people."

"We know that the only successful programs are those initiated and developed by the local people, and managed by them, with the help of both state and federal governments where needed."

Don Rarick Calls For Honest USW Election

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio — Don C. Rarick of McKeesport, Pa., who is seeking the presidency of the United Steelworkers union in next Tuesday's election, called for

"honest elections in all local unions" at a meeting in nearby Struthers Wednesday night.

He accused union leaders of holding "phony elections" and said USW President David McDonald, who is seeking re-election, had offered him "everything but the international's treasury to get out of the fight for the presidency."

Arrival Of O'Neill's Bills Will Send Assembly Into Action Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature is about to get off the merry-go-round it has been riding the last five weeks and get down to business.

That's the word from lawmakers who recently conferred with Ohio's new Republican governor, C. William O'Neill.

O'Neill is headman in an all-Republican statehouse. Five administration bills will be sent to the GOP-dominated General Assembly next week.

Their arrival will be the signal for serious work.

Lawmakers report O'Neill apparently has enough of his personnel problems solved to let him turn at least part of his attention to his legislative program. And all indications confirm earlier estimates of most statehouse observers that the list of new laws

O'Neill wants is relatively short. O'Neill plans to huddle at least once a week with legislative leaders from now on, possibly more often if the situation warrants.

One administration bill due next week, leaders expect, is a measure to give the highway director authority to hire outside help to buy highway right-of-way. The director now has authority to hire outside appraisers and engineers. O'Neill describes actual right-of-way purchasing as one of the highway department's big bottlenecks.

The lawmakers went home for the weekend at noon Thursday after introducing only 11 bills, bringing the session total to 380.

More than 1,300 bills were offered in 1955.

Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) introduced a bill Thursday that appears sure to set off some fireworks. He proposes to bar labor unions with union-shop contracts from using any of their dues money for political purposes.

It is similar to a bill by Rep. Elton Kile (R-Madison) which caused quite a ruckus in the 1955 session before it was shelved.

Said Secretary-Treasurer John R. Rooney of the Ohio CIO Council: "Of course we are opposed to it."

Rooney added he believes the Shaw proposal is unconstitutional. The Shaw bill does not mention labor unions. It says:

"The use for political purposes of dues of members of any association, membership in which is required as a condition of continued employment by another in this state, is unlawful."

Youngstown's two Democratic senators, Charles J. Carney and Stephen R. Olenick, proposed creation of an Ohio atomic energy commission to license persons and firms dealing in nuclear materials. They said their proposal does not conflict with present federal regulations. The bill creates a coordinator post at $10,000 a year.

Other measures offered Thursday would:

Require traveling ice cream peddlers with the bicycle carts to be licensed.

Require larger signs warning of "radar" speed-timing devices and prohibit their display unless the timing devices are in actual operation.

Create a 15-member Ohio historical markers commission for uniform marking of historical sites.

Increase membership of the state teachers retirement board from five to seven by giving active and retired teachers greater representation.

The Senate Rules Committee scheduled a floor vote Monday night on a House-approved bill to abolish the state highway construction council. The group was created four years ago by a Republican Legislature to keep a legislative string on highway spending during the administration of a Democratic governor.

Senate absenteeism prevented a vote on the bill Thursday.

IRON CORPS HIRES GENERAL

The 63-year-old retired four-star general will be proposed as a director at a stockholders meeting April 25 with the understanding that he will be elected chairman of the board. Ronald W. Thompson company president, said here Thursday.

1956 Retail Sales Slightly Under 1955

COLUMBUS (AP)—Retail sales in Ohio for 1956 were fractionally under 1955 volume, the bureau of business research at Ohio State University reported today.

The bureau said the largest decline in sales was experienced by motor vehicle dealers. Sales were down 12 per cent for the auto dealers.

However, the bureau said, 15 business reported sales increases in 1956. Heating and plumbing equipment, up 16 per cent, showed the largest gain.

Other substantial increases were:

Combination stores with groceries and meats, 6 per cent; drug stores, 5 per cent, and florists, 4 per cent.

Ohio retail sales for last December were good, the bureau said, but did not come up to expectations. Sales were 4 per cent below sales for the corresponding month in 1955.

The bureau said department stores and most apparel lines failed to top the 1955 holiday volume, as did most durable goods retailers.

In Ohio's eight largest cities, 1956 sales were under those for 1955, except in Canton, where sales were up 4 per cent.

Dr. Sheppard Getting Along Fine In Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Sam Sheppard seems to be getting along fine with his fellow inmates at Ohio Penitentiary.

"Sam Sheppard is well liked by everybody," an inmate who has spent some time working with the Cleveland area osteopath said Thursday.

Sheppard is serving a life term for the slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn.

For a while, Sheppard worked in the penitentiary's hospital as a male nurse.

"It was one of the best things that ever happened to the hospital when he was assigned there," Sheppard's inmate co-worker said.

The osteopath now works in the prison print shop and for recreation plays forward on the prison's basketball team.

And, said his fellow prisoners, he is a "good player."

NO PRIMARY NEEDED
HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—It won't be necessary to hold a primary election for city offices in Hillsboro this year.

The deadline for filing notices of candidacies found no contests among either the Republicans or Democrats. The Republicans filed a complete ticket while the Democrats filed a partial ticket.

Cable-Slashings Reduce Service In Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Cable-slashings have reduced the number of telephones in service in the Portsmouth area to "well below 3,000," a spokesman for the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. said Thursday. There are about 17,000 Ohio Consolidated phone subscribers in the area.

The Communications Workers of America (CWA) union has denied responsibility for the vandalism. The CWA went on strike against the company July 15 over proposed elimination of the union shop and other clauses in a new contract.

One Killed, Two Hurt In Truck-Car Crash

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—One woman was killed and two other persons injured Thursday in a truck-auto collision on U. S. 6, one mile west of Edgerton in Williams County.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Martha Ludwig, 56, of Parma. Taken to the Williams County General Hospital with serious injuries were her husband, Paul, 60, driver of the auto, and their niece, Magda Litchi, 30, of Lakewood.

Ludwig's car collided with a milk truck driven by Roy Koerner, 20, of Edgerton. Koerner was charged by Prosecutor William Weaver with second degree manslaughter and failure to yield the right of way.

Faces 1-20 Years For Slaying Man

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Dow Johnson Jr., 32 of Troy, convicted of first degree manslaughter, faces a possible 1-20 year prison sentence for the Oct. 24 slaying of Doug Miller, 32, also of Troy.

Judge David Porter of Miami County Common Pleas Court indicated he may sentence Johnson today.

A jury of eight men and four women retried the verdict Thursday. Johnson, who had been indicted on a first-degree murder charge, wept when he heard it.

Witnesses testified Johnson shot Miller when he found him with Johnson's estranged wife, Lucy, in a Troy tavern. Mrs. Johnson was wounded but recovered.

Conrad Hilton, owner of 29 hotels in many of the major cities of the world, was born in San Antonio, New Mexico.
